

Georeferencing

EMAP Consulting can work with multiple file types. We realise that sometimes spatial data does not exist in the format we would like it!

If you have maps that need to be recreated from PDF or image format, even from a sketch, we can do that for you.

By scanning your existing map, plan or sketch into our software and georeferencing it to known locations within our base mapping data, we can position your map within its actual location and extract the data it contains into a useable format.

From there your data can be added to a map, and it can be queried and exported in the format you would like.
